A superior cast of thieves, "Los Internacionales" scout the world looking for spectacular loots. With sophisticated and innovative methods, these men and women operate under a strict code of honour and with a greater goal: to redistribute the money back home, among their families and communities, as modern day Robin Hoods. Fausto, an almost retired Internacional, embarks on one last mission, guiding a group of willing and bold youngsters, eager to become part of this elite of criminal "heroes".
