A middle-class doctor with progressive ideas, tired of thefts, leaves his brand-new 4x4 van as bait in a poor neighbourhood. A mediocre thief falls for it and gets stuck. The van is shielded, it's hermetical and has tinted windows. The doctor keeps him there for a few days and communicates with him through the car's speaker to lecture him. He puts him through different punishment and reward tests and he drains him physically and mentally. On top of dealing with the doctor's pressure, which constantly haunts him, the thief must attempt to survive inside the van.

Winner of two Grimmfest Awards.
