Marcela is a young woman in financial difficulty who finds a job for the summer looking after Amador, an elderly, bedridden man with an absent family. She believes her problems have been solved, but in the following days Amador dies, leaving Marcela in a difficult situation. His death has left her without work, and this is something she cannot allow... Confronted with a difficult moral dilemma, Marcela will show that death does not always stop life.

Winner of two awards at the International Film Festival of Guadalajara, Mexico.
