

Comedy · 2018 · 104' · Argentina / Spain

My masterpiece

Direction: Gastón Duprat

Script: Andrés Duprat, Guillermo Francella, Luis Brandoni, Raúl Arévalo, Andrea Frigerio, María Soldi, Alejandro Paker, Pablo Ribba, Roberto Peloni, Mucio Manchini, Julio Marticorena, Santiago Korovsky, Melina Matthews, Mahmoud Azim, Mohamed Nafad

Cast: Guillermo Francella, Luis Brandoni, Raúl Arévalo, Andrea Frigerio, María Soldi, Alejandro Paker, Pablo Ribba, Roberto Peloni, Mucio Manchini, Julio Marticorena, Santiago Korovsky, Melina Matthews, Mahmoud Azim, Mohamed Nafad

Producers: Arco Libre Srl, Televisión Abierta Sa and MEDIAPRO

Arturo is a charming, sophisticated and slightly unscrupulous art gallery owner. He has his own gallery in downtown Buenos Aires, a city that fascinates him. Renzo (Luis Brandoni) is a surly painter, a bit rough around the edges, and frankly, falling into decadence. He hates social contact and is almost on the streets. While the gallery owner and the painter are bonded by an old friendship, they have almost nothing in common. Their worlds and ideas are at odds, which leads to huge tension and fighting between them. Yet despite these differences, they are great friends. And that friendship is what this comedy is about.

Cinema

Trailer

THE MEDIAPRO
STUDIO
DISTRIBUTION