Who will be the sixth graders at José Urbina López Elementary School in Matamoros? They are among the lowest performing students in Mexico, the world they know is one of violence and hardship, and their classrooms are dominated by an atmosphere of authoritarian discipline, not possibility. It may seem like a dead end... but it's also the perfect place for new teacher Sergio Juarez to try something different. There's just one problem: Sergio (played by an incredible Eugenio Derbez) has no idea what he's doing.
