Based on the homonymous novel by Eça de Queirós (published in 1875, amid great controversy and protests from the Catholic Church), "The Crime of Father Amaro" is a series of 6 episodes of 45 minutes each.

The plot is set in the Portuguese city of Leiria, in the late 1860s, and follows the story of a forbidden love between Amaro, a young priest, and Amélia, "the most beautiful girl in Leiria". Tense, emotional and anchored in personality conflicts, the series "The Crime of Father Amaro" offers an ever-current vision of human relationships and of a hypocritical and puritanical society of the 19th century.
