Levante, 1992, the end of summer in a coastal town. Sandra, Eva and Malena, all 15 years old, disappear from a club without a trace. The police don't seem to be looking in the right place, so Javi, Sandra's younger brother, starts his own investigation alongside Quino and Álvaro, his best friends, and Zeta, the class bully. Together, they discover that those who have his sister aren't of this world. In parallel to Costa, a tenacious Civil Guard officer, the gang will have to uncover these supernatural beings' plans if they want to find the girls before it's too late.
