Over 15 years have gone by and Rober comes back from the US with the idea of setting up a big musical that makes a compilation of all the old UPA hits along with new ones, to shine like they did in the past. Together with Silvia and Lola, they will initiate the entrance examinations, where a new squad of students, dancers, singers and composers, who will intervene in the musical and bring new tunes to the centre, will participate. Sira and Luiso will join the teaching staff, and they will have to deal with a new generation of young people with whom they will clash and delve into new cultures and current styles.
