Lucía was Diego's first love. Diego was Lucía's. They were high school sweethearts. When she turned 18, she left to Barcelona to study and the couple broke up.

After twenty years, fate brought them back together and the old flame came back to life. Now they are about to get married. But when Diego and Lucía's lives join they also join their families.

Seven people, seven personalities, will have to live together under one roof and will experience amazing stories.
