Thriller · 2024–2026 - 2 Seasons /12x40’ · Spain

Celeste

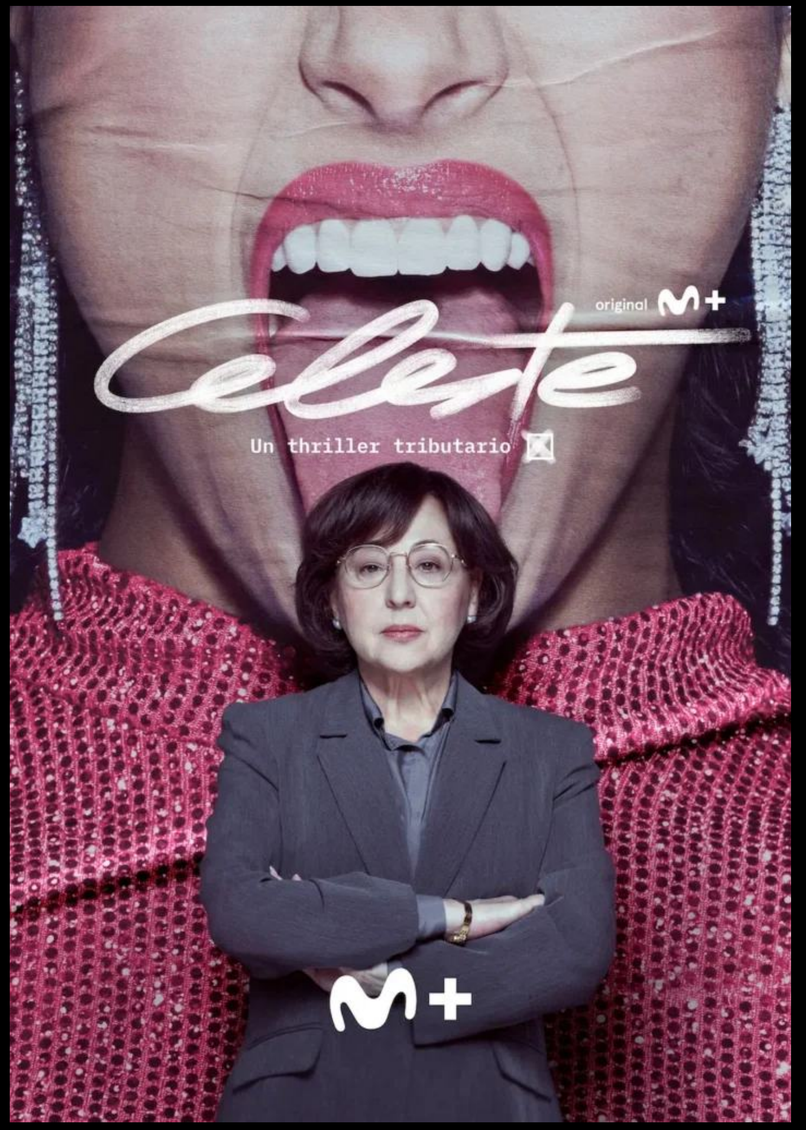

Direction: Elena Trapé

Script: Diego San José, Daniel Castro, Oriol Puig

Cast: Carmen Machi, Andrea Bayardo, Manolo Solo, Antonio Durán “Morris”, Clara Sans, Aixa Villagrán, Marc Soler, Lucía Veiga, Luis Moreno, Jesús Noguero

Producers: Movistar Plus+, 100 Balas

Celeste is Latin music’s biggest star. Her songs are hits worldwide, her concerts sold out to packed stadiums, she has her own perfume, her own lingerie brand, and hair a mile long she brandishes to promote her own line of shampoo products. But this series isn't about her. The real protagonist of 'Celeste' is Sara Santano, a tax inspector who has dedicated her entire life to tax collection. Since she sat her state exams at the age of twenty, she has done nothing else in her life up until today and after over thirty years devoted to the government tax authority, the time has come to retire early. Or so she thought. Because, on her last day on the job she receives the most important commission of her career: to prove that Celeste, the huge Latin star, lives in Spain and as such is obligated to pay her taxes here. A mission on which twenty million euros depend for the Spanish coffers. To do this, Sara will have to put her life on hold to explore that of Celeste and prove that she spent 184 days in Spain. Half a year plus one day.

Trailer

Series